ABOUT THE PRODUCTION

"The Pledge" was pitched by creator–writer D. M. Night Maire to Royal Holloway's University of London's MA Producing candidates, and was one of four scripts chosen to be made as part of their coursework.

"The Pledge" was shot at Royal Holloway's University of London Egham campus in the Spring of 2025 over the course of a single evening.

D. M. Night Maire is an alumnus of Royal Holloway's University of London, having received an MA in Screenwriting for TV & Film from the academic institution.

"The Pledge" is available with English closed captions.

REVIEWS

"'The Pledge' stood out to our programming team for its storytelling and artistic vision, and it earned its place in a highly competitive selection of films."

- Lisandro "Lasso" Boccacci, Festival Director, Stay Gold Film Festival

"'The Pledge' has a genuinely interesting premise and demonstrates a clear understanding of how atmosphere, performance and cinematography can work together to place an audience inside a character's experience. The leading performance is one of the film's strongest elements, creating a character the audience can connect with, while several of the cinematographic choices effectively reinforce her perspective and help establish an unsettling atmosphere. The film is at its most compelling during the build-up to and execution of the initiation ceremony. There is a sense that something significant and potentially disturbing is about to happen, and this section creates the strongest tension in the film. … The central performance provides a strong emotional anchor. … A strong idea and atmosphere. … [A] dark and most compelling concept."
